DETAILED ACTION

1. The Preliminary Amendment filed on 7/10/03 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kern.

Kern discloses a method and apparatus for slotting comprising all the elements claimed including, inter alia, a drilling blade (e.g. 38, 39) having a geometric shape. See whole document.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 6-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Kern.

Kern discloses the invention substantially as claimed including the inherent ability to cut metal sheets, especially those of relative thickness and material characteristics as that of corrugated board forming boxes. However, if it is argued that

Art Unit: 3724

Kern lacks this ability, then it would have been obvious to the ordinary artisan at the time of the instant invention to provide Kern with the ability to "drill" or cut metal sheets, since the Applicant has disclosed that such sheets are relatively thin (note e.g. pp. 1-2), since these sheets would have material characteristics within the bounds of cardboard, and since all this would require is a modification of the factors such as running time, the strength of pull through the device which are all within the skills of the ordinary artisan.

Conclusion

6. Hart, Schafer, and Griffin are cited as pertinent art.
